Please tap the button to export the records of the device list, and then there will be a "MEyeTechDeviceHistory.xml" in the shared folder of the app. The xml file can be acquired in the iTunes (we have instruction below), and the xml file can be applied in any of our apps that support this function. Use iTunes to add the xml to MeyeTech app (please follow the steps below), then you can tap import button in the app so that you do not need to type the device information again once you change app or iOS devices.

Note:

The import&export function does not support history in favorite
Importing new xml will clear the existing device information

How to acquire the xml in iTunes?

1. Choose the iOS device in iTunes
2. Click Apps on the top
3. Choose the right application
4. Choose the "MeyeTechDeviceHistory.xml" and save it to your PC
5. Choose another application and then click Add to add the xml file you just saved
